Subject: potential priority ambient air monitoring QAPPs from regulatory perspective

Monitoring Team,

I know that this is far from perfect, but it's a start. I've pulled from many sources for this, but please take a look and send me whatever edits you have next week (ideally by Thursday morning, so that I can send this to the QA office mid-day Thursday).

I've attempted to put things in three categories, in order to help inform the QA office's priorities as much as possible. But the decisions on priority placement is entirely a first guess, so please offer whatever you have in terms of opinions. Keep in mind also that the plan is still for Elfego to give an overview of what QAPPs are ultimately required and our understanding of the status. So this is supposed to just be our snapshot of the regulatory priorities, and complementary to the other efforts by the QA office to meet the OAQPS requirements.

Thanks,
Matt
